Experience a different kind of wonderland this winter

_Aegean Odyssey_ makes a welcome return to South Africa, India and Southeast Asia this winter with a programme of longer-duration cruises that promise ancient wonders, vibrant cities, captivating tropical islands, fascinating cultures and memorable wildlife encounters.
‘Wonderful things’

When he was asked if he could see anything upon opening the tomb of Tutankhamun in 1922, an awestruck Howard Carter replied simply ‘yes, wonderful things’ – an apt expression, not just for the extraordinary treasures he uncovered that day, but for all the archaeological marvels of Egypt.

We are delighted to be returning to this ever-inspiring country in December, visiting not just Luxor’s Valley of the Kings, where Carter made his discovery, and Cairo’s Egyptian Museum, where Tutankhamun’s funerary effects are now displayed, but also the breathtaking Pyramids and Sphinx of Giza, the impressive necropolis of Memphis, the distinctive Step Pyramid of Sakkara, the monumental temple complex at Karnak and the oldest Christian monasteries in the world – St Anthony and St Paul.

Yet more ancient wonders featured in the first winter cruise include the Acropolis of Athens, Bronze Age Mycenae and Petra’s unforgettable Treasury.

Land of legend

To visit Oman is to step into mythology. Fabled as the birthplace of Sinbad, hero of perhaps the most famous of the tales told by Sheherazade in the Arabian Nights, Oman is also noted as the centre of the frankincense trade. Its colourful domes, mudbrick fortresses, bustling markets and unspoilt beaches and deserts make the country a perfect winter destination, and we see in the New Year in the capital, Muscat.

Jewel in the crown

India is blessed with myriad spectacular attractions, but pre-eminent amongst them is the trio of mesmerising cities known as the ‘Golden Triangle’, an overland tour of which concludes our first winter cruise and begins the second.

Visitors to Delhi can trace the various historical incarnations of a great city, culminating in the splendour of Edwin Lutyens’ New Delhi, the jewel in Britain’s imperial crown. Jaipur is the ‘pink city’ of India, with its fairy-tale forts, exquisite façades and majestic palaces. And Agra boasts history’s greatest monument to love and undoubted icon of world travel, the Taj Mahal. The first sight of this ethereally beautiful marble mausoleum, commissioned by Mughal emperor Shah Jahan for his favourite queen, quite literally takes the breath away.

Other Voyages to Antiquity winter 2018/19 stops in India include the crazy, vibrant, thrilling city of Mumbai, Gandhi’s birthplace Porbandar (with sightseeing by tuk-tuk) and the tranquil provinces of Goa and Kerala, where the Chinese fishing nets are an engaging sight.

All that glitters

Burma is truly the land of golden temples, and Aegean Odyssey will be sailing along the Yangon River to berth in the heart of its eponymous city, formerly Rangoon and the country’s capital. The standout highlight of this friendly city is the remarkable 100m-high Shwedagon Pagoda, entirely plated with gold.

Temples are also the order of the day in Bagan (optional air excursion), where more than 2,000 sublime pagodas and stupas are dotted across a verdant plain in a bend of the Irrawaddy River. And Burma’s evocatively named second city, Mandalay (optional air excursion), is also renowned for its remarkable pagoda-studded hillsides.
Where east meets west, and ancient meets modern

The cities of Southeast Asia present the most enticing contrasts. Centuries-old temples and colonial mansions sit cheek by jowl with soaring skyscrapers and ultra-modern hotels. Witness Kuala Lumpur (known to all as KL), where rattan baskets and intricate songkets are woven at an ornate craft complex in the shadow of the magnificent twin Petronas Towers. And Singapore, where the jaw-dropping 200m-high SkyPark looks down from atop the new Marina Sands Hotel upon Raffles Place and the traditional Nonya district of Katong.

Idyllic islands

Like emeralds fringed with white gold and scattered across a vast, velvety azure expanse, the islands of the Indian Ocean enchant with their beauty. The Maldives, the Seychelles, Mauritius and Reunion may have different cultures and traditions, but they all offer dreamily soft white sand beaches, instant relaxation and a cuisine based on delicious fresh fish and fruit.

Three of our winter cruises make Indian Ocean stops, along with Sri Lanka, the ‘isle of serendipity’, bewitching with its serene temples, lush tea plantations and characterful residents of the Pinnawala Elephant Orphanage. But the Indian Ocean does not have a monopoly on idyllic isles – we also take in the lovely Andaman Islands and Thailand’s alluring Phi Phi Islands.

In search of the ‘big five’

Game hunters of yesteryear coined the term ‘big five’ to describe the most difficult animals to take down with a single shot. Thankfully (for the most part) these are more enlightened times and cameras do the only shooting, yet the cachet of the ‘big five’ for safarigoers endures – elephant, lion, leopard, rhino and buffalo are the most prized sightings. But, of course, there are countless other creatures to look out for: zebra, giraffe, cheetah, hippo, baboon, warthog and literally hundreds of species of birds among them. There is something undeniably romantic and adventurous about a classic African safari, and the fourth Voyages to Antiquity winter cruise includes no fewer than three amazing wildlife-watching opportunities – at Hluhluwe Game Reserve (noted for its rare white rhinos), St Lucia Nature Reserve (a wetland paradise) and Port Elizabeth Private Game Reserve (home to all of the ‘big five’). In Cape Town, you can expect even more animal encounters, including the penguins of Boulders Beach.

A tale of two hemispheres

The last of the epic winter cruises truly deserves that description, traversing the entire length of the African continent from Cape Town to the southern shores of Spain, with a number of enthralling stops en route.

Discover the German colonial heritage of Namibia and the country’s forbidding Skeleton Coast, cloaked in dense fog generated when the broiling desert dunes meet the cold Atlantic tides. The Angolan capital Luanda appears on few cruise maps, but has plenty to recommend it, not least Gustav Eiffel’s Palacio de Ferro. Then Aegean Odyssey crosses the Equator and calls on the sun-drenched islands of Bom Bom (Sao Tome & Principe), Praia (Cape Verde) and Las Palmas (Canaries), before concluding its African adventure with an exploration of the great imperial cities of Morocco.
Grand Voyages – epic cruises, amazing savings

By combining two or more Voyages to Antiquity cruises into one unforgettable journey, not only do you experience even more exotic cultures, breathtaking landscapes and iconic attractions, you also enjoy extraordinary value for money, with special combination prices and exclusive on-board credit offers. Call our friendly Reservations team on 01865 951329 for more details.

All fares include

Welcome aboard Aegean Odyssey

There is a particular pleasure that comes with cruising aboard a smaller ship. Hosting an average of just 350 passengers, Aegean Odyssey is no ‘floating city’. She is small enough to put in at more characterful ports inaccessible to the mega-ships, the service is more personal and you get plenty of time to interact with the on-board experts.

Yet on the other hand, she is large enough to offer a superb selection of amenities, including two dining venues, several comfortable lounges and bars, a spa centre and well-stocked library. Cabins are spacious, modern and intelligently designed.

Voyages to Antiquity – officially the best in small ship cruising!

Voyages to Antiquity are delighted to have been named ‘Best Small Ships Cruise Line’ at the prestigious, 100% public-voted British Travel Awards, the so-called ‘Oscars of the travel industry’. The trophy takes pride of place next to the Cruise Critic ‘Best Small Ship: Shore Excursions’ award and a host of other accolades from the last 12 months.

Having completed a BA, MA and PhD in Egyptology at the University of Liverpool, where he is now an Honorary Research Fellow, Campbell undertook fieldwork at the sites of Zawiyet Umm el-Rakham (Sakkara) and the Egyptian Museum in Cairo. He has written about ancient Egyptian material culture, most recently the co-edited volume Mummies, Magic and Medicine in Ancient Egypt and Pocket Museum: Ancient Egypt, and he is a regular contributor to Egyptology documentaries on TV and radio.

DR DAVID PRICE WILLIAMS has been associated with the eastern Mediterranean – Greece, Turkey, Jordan and the Near East for more than 40 years. He is deeply involved with all aspects of Near Eastern culture, history and archaeology. He has also spent many years in southern Africa, directing a team researching the effects of climate change on human evolution and overseeing the building of the Swaziland National Museum, where he became Director of Antiquities. He is a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society and the author and co-author of numerous academic papers on the archaeology of western Asia.

DR DAVID CRILLY graduated from the Universities of Southampton (Music) and London (Masters in Drama and Theatre Studies), before completing his doctorate in the philosophy of art at Magdalen College, Oxford. For the past 30 years he has been Artistic Director of the annual open-air Cambridge Shakespeare Festival. He is a conductor, composer, author and arts practitioner – for 18 years Director-in-Residence for Anglia Opera, conducting and producing such classics as La Bohème, Carmen, Peter Grimes, La Traviata and The Turn of the Screw. On this cruise, he introduces the real Anthony and Cleopatra.

PROFESSOR THOMAS G FRASER MBE gained his MA in Medieval & Modern History at the University of Glasgow before moving to the LSE for his doctoral work in International History (with a thesis on the relationship between Germany and Indian revolutionaries during the First World War). In 1969 he joined the New University of Ulster, now Ulster University, becoming Provost of its Magee campus and now Emeritus Professor of History. Thomas is widely published, mostly on the modern history of the Middle East and India, but also on American foreign policy and the Northern Ireland peace process.

ALAN O’CAIN is a professional artist and poet who delivers much-loved public talks and performances. He has collaborated creatively with Glyndebourne Opera and the Royal Shakespeare Company and produced art and poetry in-residence in a number of international venues, including the studio of Edvard Munch and the former prison cell of Egon Schiele. He has held solo exhibitions at the Hay Festival and several other locations in the UK and abroad. Alan will be delivering entertaining talks exploring themes from art history, philosophy and the history of science, and running art and poetry-writing workshops during days at sea.

YOUR GUEST LECTURERS INCLUDE
Your Itinerary

1 JAN 2019 LONDON, England
Fly overnight to Delhi.

2 JAN 2019 DELHI, India
Upon arrival, transfer to your hotel in the heart of Delhi, with time at leisure.

3 JAN DELHI, India
A sightseeing tour introduces the many ‘ages’ of Delhi as a capital city, including grand New Delhi, administrative centre of India, the British Empire’s ‘jewel in the crown’.

4 JAN DELHI/AGRA, India
A drive to Agra and sightseeing of the UNESCO World Heritage Site of Agra Fort, main residence of the Mughal emperors until the capital moved to Delhi in 1638.

5 JAN AGRA/JAIPUR, India
Many consider the Taj Mahal history’s most sublime architectural achievement and the first sight of this shimmering marble mausoleum genuinely takes the breath away. Discover this extraordinary monument to love, then stop at the ‘ghost city’ of Fatehpur Sikri on the way to Jaipur.

6 JAN JAIPUR, India
Painted pink (the colour of hospitality) in the late 19th century to welcome the Prince of Wales and Queen Victoria on their imperial visit, Jaipur is an attractive and engaging city packed with historical treasures.

7 JAN JAIPUR/MUMBAI, India
After a flight to Mumbai, enjoy a sightseeing tour of this bustling city before embarking Aegean Odyssey.

8 JAN At sea
Get to know Aegean Odyssey as she sails the Arabian Sea.

9 JAN MARMAGAO, India
The sun-kissed coastline of Goa may be best known for its golden beaches, but there is enthralling Portuguese colonial heritage to discover too.

10 JAN At sea
A further day at sea invites appreciation of Aegean Odyssey’s fine amenities.

11 JAN COCHIN, India
There are more Portuguese colonial echoes in Cochin, along with the option to absorb the tranquil beauty of Kerala, one of India’s most enchanting regions.

12 JAN At sea
Unwind as Aegean Odyssey sets sail across the Indian Ocean.

13 JAN MALDIVES
With their soft white sands, leaning palm trees and sun-dappled lagoons, the Maldives are the epitome of desert island romance. A beach barbecue awaits.

14 JAN At sea
A further day at sea cruising the Indian Ocean.

15 JAN COLOMBO, Sri Lanka
On the teardrop-shaped ‘Isle of Serendipity’, watch elephants bathe and play at an orphanage for these gentle giants, or head north to the sacred temples of Kandy.

16 JAN COLOMBO, Sri Lanka
A morning tour of Colombo reveals a characterful city with fine colonial architecture and beaches bustling with friendly locals.

17 JAN At sea
The Daily Journal details a host of activities on board, with the option to do as much or as little as you wish.

18 JAN TRINCOMALEE, Sri Lanka
Famed for its colourful temple in a stunning seafront setting, Trincomalee also has an amazing history as one of the most occupied cities in the world, changing colonial hands seven times before British rule in the late 18th century. Alternatively, join an optional excursion to the ancient royal city and UNESCO World Heritage Site of Polonnaruwa.

19-20 JAN At sea
Take in fascinating lectures by the on-board speakers as Aegean Odyssey continues her Indian Ocean journey.

21 JAN PORT BLAIR, Andaman Islands
Visit the historic monuments and museums of the Andaman capital. An afternoon optional excursion takes in Ross Island, a splendidly well-preserved retreat formerly the British colonial headquarters.

22 JAN At Sea
Aegean Odyssey cruises the Andaman Sea on route to Thailand.

23 JAN PHUKET, Thailand
Expect a difficult choice today with excursions to two of the world’s most naturally beautiful places – the idyllic Phi Phi islets, with their stunning beaches and laid-back resorts, and Phang Nga, a bay of photogenic sheer-sided limestone islets, one of which found fame as the lair of The Man with the Golden Gun.

24 JAN At sea
The Strait of Malacca, between Malaysia and Indonesia, connects the Indian and Pacific oceans. We sail this hugely significant waterway to two of Southeast Asia’s great cities.

25 JAN PORT KELANG, Malaysia
An hour or so from Port Kelang is the Malaysian capital, Kuala Lumpur (known to all as ‘KL’), set in the shadow of the iconic Petronas towers. Experience KL’s mesmerising, cosmopolitan blend of old and new.

26 JAN SINGAPORE
Disembark Aegean Odyssey in a city of extraordinary contrasts and uniquely magnificent architecture – Singapore. Get your bearings with a morning sightseeing tour. An optional night safari presents a fascinating insight into the nocturnal activities of the residents of Singapore Zoo.

27 JAN SINGAPORE
A day to explore this amazing city independently – perhaps some shopping on Orchard Road – or an optional tour to the stunning waterfront nature reserve Gardens by the Bay.

28 JAN SINGAPORE
Transfer to Singapore Airport for your overnight flight home.

29 JAN LONDON, England
Arrival back in the UK.

ROBERT A E GORDON is a former British diplomat who graduated at Oxford’s Magdalen College and joined the British diplomatic service in 1973. His early postings included Warsaw, Santiago and Paris. In 1983, he was made an OBE for his services during the Falklands War. From 1995-1999 he was British Ambassador to Burma (Myanmar), being awarded the CMG in 1999. Thereafter he headed the FCO’s Southeast Asia Department. In 2011 he became President of the Britain-Burma Society as well as Chairman of Prospect Burma, a charity which gives some 90 scholarships a year to young Burmese to study at universities abroad.

PAMELA GORDON has been a diplomat and a professional English language teacher throughout her working life. For the last five years, she has headed the British Diplomatic Service Families Association, looking after the interests of the 3,000+ spouses and dependents of British diplomats. She has served in British missions in Havana and Brussels, and taught English in Warsaw, Paris and Burma, where she developed a keen interest in Burmese textiles, especially those from ethnic minorities. In 2010, Pamela joined the FCO’s South Asia Department, with special responsibility for Bangladesh, Sri Lanka and the Maldives.

PROFESSOR SANDY PRIMROSE MBE is a biologist by training, undertaking research in Australia and working in the fields of academia, pharmaceuticals and biotechnology, and more recently as a government adviser. He was awarded an MBE in 2010 for services to the Food Standards Agency. Sandy has written a number of popular scientific textbooks and Plants, Poisons and Personalities, aimed at lay audiences. His passion is gardening and his half-acre garden is filled with unusual trees and shrubs. The stories of these plants and his experiences in the food industry form the basis of his entertaining cruise lectures.

PROFESSOR ROBERT H TAYLOR, born and educated in the United States, has taught Southeast Asian politics at universities in Sydney, Hong Kong and London. He was Pro-Director of the School of Oriental and African Studies, then Vice-Chancellor of the University of Buckingham. Robert is the author and editor of several volumes on Southeast Asia, most recently The State in Myanmar and General Ne Win: A Political Biography, both of which have been translated into Burmese. Professor Taylor was one of very few western social scientists to live in Myanmar in the 1970s and 1980s and has visited the country almost every year since.

This fascinating journey encompasses colonial history, breathtaking natural beauty, glittering temples galore and the sheer exoticism of Southeast Asia.

We begin with explorations of Singapore, Malacca and Penang, each with colonial echoes and enthralling ‘melting pot’ cultures and cuisines. Thailand’s Phi Phi Islands – limestone monoliths rising sheer from the sea – present postcard views at every turn.

Then it is on to Burma, land of golden pagodas, bustling bazaars and welcoming smiles, before the unspoilt Andaman Islands and the ‘teardrop isle’ of Sri Lanka, where we meet the characterful residents of an elephant orphanage.
YOUR ITINERARY

23 JAN 2019 LONDON, England
Depart the UK on an overnight flight to Singapore.

24 JAN SINGAPORE
Upon arrival in Singapore, transfer to your hotel, with the remainder of the day at leisure.

25 JAN SINGAPORE
Get your bearings in this extraordinary city with a morning sightseeing tour. An optional night safari presents a fascinating insight into the nocturnal activities of the residents of Singapore Zoo.

26 JAN SINGAPORE
Join an optional tour to the stunning waterfront nature reserve Gardens by the Bay, or explore independently before embarking Aegean Odyssey.

27 JAN MALACCA, Malaysia
The small, friendly city of Malacca is recognised, along with Georgetown (Penang), as a UNESCO World Heritage Site for its East-West trading history, reflected in its culture, architecture and cuisine.

28 JAN MALACCA, Malaysia
The Strait of Malacca, between Malaysia and Indonesia, connects the Indian and Pacific oceans. We sail this hugely significant waterway to another multicultural jewel, Penang.

29 JAN PENANG, Malaysia
Like Malacca, the colourful capital of Penang island, Georgetown, has a rich colonial and spice trading history. It is also known as the food capital of Malaysia, so be sure to make time to sample local delicacies during your tour.

30 JAN PHUKET, Thailand
Expect a difficult choice today with excursions to two of the world’s most naturally beautiful places – the idyllic Phi Phi Islands, with their stunning beaches and laid-back resorts, and Phang Nga, a bay of photogenic sheer-sided limestone islets, one of which found fame as the lair of The Man with the Golden Gun.

31 JAN - 1 FEB At sea
Appreciate the ship’s many excellent amenities and fascinating guest lectures as Aegean Odyssey sails the Andaman Sea to Burma.

2 FEB YANGON, Burma
Amongst Buddhism’s most sacred sites for its holy relics, the 95m-tall, 2,500-year-old Shwedagon Pagoda, adorned with 27 tons of gold leaf, is one of the world’s truly breathtaking monuments. We visit this shimmering treasure that dominates the skyline of Burma’s largest city, formerly known as Rangoon.

3 FEB YANGON, Burma
Visit the sprawling, covered Scott’s Market, with its colonial architecture, cobblestone streets and more than 2,000 stalls, along with the excellent National Museum, showcasing Burmese art, history and culture. Alternatively, join an optional air excursion to the stunning temple-dotted landscape of Bagan or romantic Mandalay.

4 FEB YANGON, Burma
A day at leisure in Yangon to unwind or make your own explorations.

5 FEB At sea
Aegean Odyssey has one of the best-stocked libraries at sea – why not find an interesting book and head to the sun-deck?

6 FEB PORT BLAIR, Andaman Islands
Visit the historic monuments and museums of the Andaman capital. An afternoon optional excursion takes in Ross Island, a splendidly well-preserved retreat formerly the British colonial headquarters.

7-9 FEB At sea
Settle back and relax as Aegean Odyssey negotiates the azure expanse of the Indian Ocean.

10 FEB COLOMBO, Sri Lanka
On the teardrop-shaped ‘Isle of Serendipity’, watch elephants bathe and play at an orphanage for these gentle giants, or head north to the sacred temples of Kandy.

11 FEB COLOMBO, Sri Lanka
Disembark Aegean Odyssey and transfer to Colombo Airport for your flight home.

So much included in your fare!

The islands of the Indian Ocean are postcard-perfect visions of the desert island paradise, and no fewer than five islands or island groups feature in this unmissable cruise.

Board Aegean Odyssey in Colombo, capital of teardrop-shaped Sri Lanka, once called the ‘Isle of Serendipity’, and visit sublime temples or an elephant orphanage. A beach barbecue awaits on the soft sands of the Maldives, then it is on to the extraordinary floral treasure trove of the Seychelles, delightful Mauritius and Reunion Island, a tiny, remote and beautiful corner of France in the southern hemisphere.

In South Africa, enjoy safari adventures at two of the country’s best game reserves, learn more about the Zulu nation in Durban and spend three nights in the stunning city of Cape Town.

CHRISTOPHER WALTON
has lived and worked in Cape Town and was a journalist in Cape Town during the apartheid era before moving to one of the world’s largest publishing companies in 1981. He has edited and published books on subjects as diverse as travel, law, medicine, history and cookery and helped open new markets for books in Eastern Europe. Since his retirement, he has been a lecturer on board cruise ships, giving more than 160 lectures specialising in Italian and South African history, food and culture. Chris is passionate about photography and music — and collects handmade acoustic guitars.

NANCY GILCHRIST
developed an interest in wine at a very early age and tasting sessions at Cambridge fuelled the passion. For three years ‘home’ was Washington DC, where she ran a wine bar close to the White House, later becoming wine columnist for The Boston Globe. On her return to the UK, she ran Grants of St James’s School of Wine before leaving to work as a freelance wine educator and consultant, as one of only 356 Masters of Wine in the world. In the last couple of years, she has become increasingly involved in olive oil and chocolate, sitting as a Grand Jury member for the International Chocolate Awards.

PROFESSOR JOE CARTWRIGHT is Professor of Earth Sciences at the University of Oxford, where he graduated in the 1980s. His work as a geologist has taken him to many beautiful and remote places in the western USA, South Africa and Namibia, where he has explored for oil and diamonds. Having extensively researched how fluids migrate in the earth’s crust, he has led field campaigns worldwide, published more than 200 papers and won a number of international awards for his work. A proud Welshman, Joe’s other interests include his choral singing, painting, hill walking and village cricket.

STEVE RAGNALL is a maritime historian and author with a lifetime’s love of the sea. He is RYA Yachtmaster qualified, and has plenty of sailing experience, including passages on tall ships, most notably the Bark Endeavour, replica of Captain Cook’s ship. His recent book Better Conceiv’d than Describ’d: The Life and Times of Captain James King, Captain Cook’s Friend and Colleague, is the culmination of years of research work into Cook’s world. Steve lectures regularly to U3A, the Arts Society, the National Trust and many other organisations, and he has worked extensively in local and regional radio as musician, writer and presenter.

PROFESSOR CHRIS STRINGER has worked at the Natural History Museum London since 1973, and is now Research Leader in Human Origins and a Fellow of the Royal Society. His early research was on the relationship of Neanderthals and early modern humans in Europe, but through his work on the ‘Recent African Origin’ theory of modern human origins, he now collaborates with archaeologists, dating specialists, and geneticists in attempting to reconstruct the evolution of modern humans globally. He has published over 300 scientific papers and his recent books include The Complete World of Human Evolution.
YOUR ITINERARY

10 FEB 2019 LONDON, England
Depart the UK on an overnight flight to Colombo.

11 FEB COLOMBO, Sri Lanka
Upon arrival in Colombo, embark Aegean Odyssey with the remainder of the day at leisure.

12 FEB COLOMBO, Sri Lanka
On the teddy-bear shaped ‘Isle of Serendipity’, watch elephants bathe and play at an orphanage for these gentle giants. Take a morning tour of Colombo, a characterful city with fine colonial architecture and beaches bustling with friendly locals. Or head north on an optional excursion to the sacred temples of Kandy.

13 FEB At sea
Get to know Aegean Odyssey as she sets sail across the Indian Ocean.

14 FEB MALDIVES
With their soft white sands, leaning palm trees and sun-dappled lagoons, the Maldives are the epitome of desert island romance. A beach barbecue awaits.

15-18 FEB At sea
Extended time at sea presents the opportunity to settle back into the slower rhythms of a cruise holiday – daily activities and entertainments are plentiful, but you are equally welcome to do nothing at all.

19 FEB MAHE, Seychelles
Evolving over centuries of splendid isolation, the flora of the Seychelles is like nowhere else on earth. We take a tour of the main island, Mahe, with a focus on its natural treasures.

20 FEB MAHE, Seychelles
Enjoy time at leisure or join us on an optional glass-bottomed boat cruise above the coral reef to wonder at the colour and variety of Seychelles underwater life.

21-23 FEB At sea
Three more days at sea and Aegean Odyssey feels even more like home.

24 FEB PORT LOUIS, Mauritius
Port Louis, the Mauritian capital, reflects all the cultures that comprise cosmopolitan Mauritius, along with some fine colonial architecture. Excursions take in the city highlights in conjunction with Pamplemousses Botanical Gardens or the grand Eureka Colonial House.

25 FEB PORT LOUIS, Mauritius
See Mauritius at your own pace, or join optional tours to the extinct volcano Trou aux Cerfs, the Chamarel coloured earth and the excellent Casela Nature Park.

26 FEB ST DENIS, Reunion
Bewitching Reunion Island is a French department in the Indian Ocean, renowned for its lush volcanic interior, glorious beaches, coral reefs and Creole culture. A choice of morning tours introduces its beauty.

27 FEB - 2 MAR At sea
More time to unwind on board Aegean Odyssey as she sails for South African shores.

3 MAR RICHARDS BAY, South Africa
A choice of safari options invites you to get up close to some of Africa’s iconic creatures. Hluhluwe, the oldest proclaimed nature reserve in Africa, is home to all of the ‘big five’ and particularly noted for its elephants. Overnight excursions to Leopard Mountain or Phinda Mountain offer more exclusive experiences still.

4 MAR RICHARDS BAY, South Africa
An extended morning visit to St Lucia Wetland Park introduces a different cast of wildlife characters including hippos, crocodiles and, astonishingly, more than 500 species of birds.

5 MAR DURBAN South Africa
An hour inland from the port city of Durban, Pietermaritzburg is a beautiful city of Victorian architecture and old world charm. Alternatively, visit Sharks Board, a unique audio-visual presentation on the life, biology and importance of sharks to the marine ecosystem.

6 MAR At sea
Aegean Odyssey continues westward along the South African coast.

7 MAR PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa
Safari thrills are again the order of the day as we keep our eyes peeled for the ‘big five’ on a full day private game reserve excursion. Alternatively, an overnight optional safari tour to Lalibela Game Reserve or Pumba Private Game Reserve presents yet more wildlife watching opportunities.

8 MAR PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa
Take a half day city tour of Port Elizabeth or join an optional 2-night overland excursion that follows the famous Garden Route along the coast to Cape Town.

9 MAR At sea
A final full day at sea to get the most of your Aegean Odyssey experience.

10 MAR CAPE TOWN, South Africa
Cape Town is one of the world’s most attractive cities, with an elegant waterfront and nature on its doorstep, all set in the benevolent shadow of Table Mountain. Our introductory sightseeing tour includes a cable car ride to the summit of this icon.

11 MAR CAPE TOWN, South Africa
Just an hour or so from Cape Town are located lush vineyards that are producing exceptional quality wines. We visit the most famous – Stellenbosch.

12 MAR CAPE TOWN, South Africa
A further excursion (optional) takes in the dramatic scenery of Cape Point, the continent’s most southwestern point, home to a variety of characterful creatures, from baboons and ostriches to the penguins of Boulders Bay.

13 MAR CAPE TOWN, South Africa
Disembark Aegean Odyssey and transfer to the airport for your overnight flight home.

14 MAR LONDON, England
Arrive back in the UK.

This remarkable, epic journey – the very length of Africa – begins with three nights in one of the continent’s most charming and beautiful cities, Cape Town, and visits to iconic Table Mountain and the Stellenbosch winelands.

Then Aegean Odyssey sails north by way of Namibia’s forbidding Skeleton Coast, where the cold waters of the Atlantic meet the scorching desert dunes in an atmospheric shroud of fog, the Angolan capital, Luanda, and the three lovely, sun-drenched island groups of Sao Tome & Principe, Cape Verde and the Canaries.

Last stop en route to Malaga is Morocco and the splendid imperial city of Marrakesh, with its souks, snake charmers and storks nesting in the towers of ancient palaces.

17 MAR At sea
Get to know your home away from home a little better with a day at sea on-board Aegean Odyssey.

18 MAR LUDERITZ, Namibia
At the southern edge of the Namib, the town of Luderitz boasts lovely German colonial architecture. It is also the gateway to Kolmanskop, a diamond-mining ‘ghost town’ abandoned to the desert sands when boom turned to bust.

19 MAR At sea
We skirt the legendary ‘Skeleton Coast’ of Namibia, so dangerous for mariners of yesteryear for its shallow sandy draught and the thick fog produced when the cold currents of the Atlantic hit the scorching desert air.

20 MAR WALVIS BAY, Namibia
Which excursion will you choose – a trip to Sandwich Harbour Lagoon, dappled pink with flamingos, or a desert drive to appreciate the stark beauty of the Namib?

21 MAR WALVIS BAY, Namibia
An optional cruise excursion presents the opportunity to interact with Walvis Bay wildlife, from the dolphins often found playing beside the boat, to the seals and pelicans that may join you on board.

22-23 MAR At sea
Aegean Odyssey’s transcontinental journey continues north.

24 MAR LUANDA, Angola
The Angolan capital may be little visited by travellers, but it has much to recommend it, not least the Palacio de Ferro, designed by Gustav Eiffel.

25-26 MAR At sea
Aegean Odyssey crosses the Equator with roughly half of her epic voyage complete.

27 MAR BOM BOM ISLAND, Sao Tome
What better to do when you reach the shores of an idyllic tropical island than nothing at all? Your day on Bom Bom is at leisure, though a beach party is arranged.

28 MAR - 3 APR At sea
Extended time aboard Aegean Odyssey invites appreciation of its many excellent amenities, from the spa centre to the sun deck, and a host of engaging lectures from our guest speakers.

4 APR PRAIA, Cape Verde Islands
The Atlantic archipelago of Cape Verde is a wonderland of mountains, beaches and waterfront villages renowned for their hospitality. A choice of excursions introduces the islands’ natural beauty.

5-7 APR At sea
Further days at sea confirm the laid-back pace of this delightful holiday.

8 APR LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands
Often described as a ‘continent in miniature’ for its wide variety of landscapes, Gran Canaria has breathtaking mountains and lush forests, soft sand beaches and desert plains.

9 APR At sea
Make the most of a final full day at sea en route to Morocco.

10 APR AGADIR/MARRAKESH, Morocco
Temporarily disembarking Aegean Odyssey in Agadir, we drive by way of the stunning walled city of Taroudant to Marrakesh for an overnight stay.

11 APR MARRAKESH/CASABLANCA, Morocco
Marrakesh is a true taste of the exotic, with a bustling main square where snake charmers entertain, feast-for-the-senses souks entice and elegant palaces with storks nesting in the towers attract. We make a sightseeing tour then drive to Casablanca to rejoin Aegean Odyssey.

12 APR TANGIER, Morocco
The former ‘international city’ of Tangier was famed for its bohemian set of writers and artists, drawn to its climate, exoticism and liberalism.

13 APR MALAGA, Spain
We disembark in Malaga, the city of Picasso, and transfer to the airport for our flight home.
