Originally an 18th-century sugar mill, the service, style and exclusivity abound at Cotton House. Situated at the heart of the resort is the Great Room with its epic veranda, where you can enjoy afternoon tea or sundowners. Elegant dining can be enjoyed in either of the resort's two restaurants or, for a truly exclusive experience, have a menu created for you and served in a private dining area. The addition to the Cotton House team of Tristan Welch, former head chef at 2 Michelin-star restaurants,

Petrus, has further enhanced the culinary experience, with a focus on locally sourced produce, in particular, seafood specials such as local lobster steamed with Caribbean winkles and sorrel. The Beach Café has also been recently replaced, and also now includes the Beachbar, while a dedicated ice cream parlour offers a range of cooling, homemade refreshments.

The Cotton House Spa provides a complete menu of treatments using Ila products as well as a large selection of aromatherapy oils, with the spa itself being located a few steps from the beach and affording panoramic views of the Caribbean Sea and the gardens from all four treatment rooms.
