Amalia Goodall

Home base: Ushuaia, Argentina

Polar expeditions to date: 45+

Area of expertise: Bachelor's Degree in Tourism Management and Guiding, and Master's Degree in Environmental Management

Advice to polar travelers: "Every now and then put down your camera and take a moment to soak it all in. Experience this unique environment with all your senses: the sound of the ice crackling, the scent of the tundra, the vastness of the landscape, the texture of a feather or a piece of qiviut (muskox wool). These simple moments create powerful memories that cannot always be captured on film."

Colin Souness

Home base: South Africa

Years of polar experience: 22

Area of expertise: Having completed a PhD in glaciology, Colin frequently presents on geology, glaciology, as well as polar and Viking history. He's also a heli operations specialist.

Advice to polar travelers: "The challenges of reaching remote Arctic destinations fuel our passion for pushing the boundaries of polar exploration. Try to absorb the vast and unspoiled beauty of the place whilst knowing you're the only ones up there."

David Burton

Home base: Shetland Islands, UK

Years of polar experience: 11

Polar expeditions to date: 90

Areas of expertise: History and glaciology

Advice to polar travelers: "Head to the outer decks after dinner to take an evening constitutional. There's no better place than the Polar Regions to take some time and reflect on the serene beauty you've witnessed that day, as well as contemplate the life-changing moments you're experiencing. You never know what you might catch sight of—the majesty of the northern lights or a sighting of some wildlife."

David (Woody) Wood

Home base: Melbourne, Australia

Years of polar experience: 21

Polar expeditions to date: 300

Areas of expertise: Woody has developed in-depth knowledge of numerous aspects of polar wilderness throughout two decades of polar expedition.

Advice to polar travelers: "Polar voyages touch people in different ways. The polar environment has a power which sets people thinking about their place in our world. Get prepared with gear and have the time of your life. Travel with eyes wide open, with no fixed ideas and be open to the beauty, wonder, tranquility and fury of the polar environment."

Ryan McDevitt

Home base: St. Petersburg, Florida, USA

Years of polar experience: 8

Polar expeditions to date: 75

Areas of expertise: Operations, logistics and helicopter operations

Advice to polar travelers: "Exploring these wild regions is a full sensory experience. Take time to breathe in deeply and absorb the sights, sounds, smells, and tastes of the Polar Regions. If you pack one thing for your expedition, make it a good set of binoculars and spend time using them on the outer decks."

Michelle Sole

Home base: Oxford, England

Years of polar experience: 8

Polar expeditions to date: 85

Areas of expertise: Photography

Advice to polar travelers: "Bring binoculars. They're a great tool for spotting wildlife and getting closer views of the mountain tops. Spend as much time as possible on the outer decks and make sure you take a moment just for yourself."

Sarah Zaubi

Home base: Montana, USA

Years of polar experience: 6

Polar expeditions to date: 60

Areas of expertise: Gender studies, certified kayak guide, helicopter operations specialist

Advice to polar travelers: "Everyone arrives in the Arctic with a vision for their trip, but the Polar Regions have a way of shaping the experience. The polar reality always prevails, and in the end, the unexpected journey becomes the best adventure."

Shane Evoy

Home base: Pointe au Baril, Ontario, Canada

Years of polar experience: 27

Polar expeditions to date: 250

What guests are apt to learn on a polar voyage: "I hope guests will learn a lot about the areas we go into so they can protect what they love. There's a quote from environmentalist Baba Dioum that I live by when I'm on an expedition: 'In the end, we will conserve only what we love; we will love only what we understand; and we will understand only what we are taught.'"

Advice to polar travelers: "Sit, look, listen, and feel what is around you and take it all in."

NEIL SIERENS

Chief Pilot

Home base: Fair Oaks, UK

Years of helicopter experience: 20

Polar expeditions to date: 10

Areas of expertise: Helicopter operations around the globe; specialist in the safe transport of passengers to and from vessels.

On embracing helicopter adventures in the Polar Regions: "The view from above is like no other, but the helicopter flight provides more than just an elevated viewpoint. The landing sites we choose can only be accessed by helicopter. So, along with the great views, you can experience the thrill of possibly being the first person to have ever set foot in that area."

Our helicopter team: "Delivering an amazing helicopter experience involves a lot of highly-trained people. It's similar to a motor racing team which entails numerous experts working behind the scenes to ensure the process goes smoothly and safely. We are very selective in the pilots we hire to fly in the Polar Regions—and we're incredibly proud of our entire team. Guests are in very safe hands."

Advice to Polar Travelers: "Clearly you will want to take photos during your helicopter flight, but the lens cannot capture it all. Put down your camera occasionally and just look around. Secondly, on most flights you will be able to chat to the pilot. If you've got a question, there's a strong likelihood your fellow guests are also keen to hear the answer. If you don't get around to asking during the flight, you can always ask later when back on board Ultramarine."

Walking/Hiking

Hiking in Antarctica is free-form and supervised by our staff, who set out a perimeter at each landing site within which you are free to explore. Some walking poles are available upon request; bring your own if you require them on every landing.

On Ultramarine voyages only*

Flightseeing

Enjoying a bird's-eye view of the Antarctic—icebergs, glaciers, snow-capped peaks, ocean expanses—from the seat of a helicopter provides a unique perspective of the polar wilderness.

Polar Plunge

As madcap as it looks, this activity sees willing participants jumping into the bone-chilling ocean waters. It's a polar rite of passage—and the photo ops are priceless. Dare yourself to take the plunge.

Sea Kayaking

Kayaking along the rugged coastlines and through the calm bays with an experienced guide is one of the most inspiring ways to explore pristine Antarctica. Guests in the sea kayaking program typically paddle multiple times during their expedition.

Paddling Excursion

A guided, one-time, one-hour paddle lets you enjoy the tranquil polar surroundings from an intimate perspective. Just imagine yourself gliding along on a stable, sit-on-top kayak, totally at one with the water.

Stand-Up Paddleboarding

Part surfing, part paddling, this water sport is an intimate way to experience Antarctica from the unique vantage point of the water.

Sustainability Matters

Good explorers respect their environment. Great ones protect it.

In April 2019, we reinforced our commitment to the polar regions with the unveiling of POLAR PROMISE, our comprehensive and holistic sustainability strategy for the Polar Regions. In Polar Promise, Quark Expeditions identifies measurable goals to be reached by 2025.

This infographic reflects
QUARK EXPEDITIONS'
sustainability successes and goals—
celebrating our past while...

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE.

REDUCE SINGLE-USE PLASTICS

Quark Expeditions continues to reduce single-use plastics on board our ships. Annually, we eliminate approximately:

320,000

Single use bottles.
Our guests receive their own reusable water bottles.

14,000

Individual yogurt containers.

7,600

Parka bags.
Now in bundles versus individual plastic bags.

FUN FACTS

By working with our hotel provider, we've replaced individually wrapped items like butter, sugar, jam, honey, and yogurt with bulk versions.

We've installed water fountains on our vessels so that guests can refill their own reusable Quark Expeditions water bottle as needed.

Cabins have been outfitted with soap and shampoo dispensers to reduce waste, and we provide straws, paper napkins, and receipts only on request.

OFF-SHIP INITIATIVES

$500,000 USD

Our annual goal to support Polar Research and Conservation.

Quark Expeditions provides free berths to conservation and scientific organizations, giving scientists access to remote regions to further their research. In addition, our guests contribute to these organizations through our onboard auctions.

$270,425 USD

Auction proceeds supporting South Georgia Heritage Trust and Friends of South Georgia.

From 2014 to 2018, Quark Expeditions' guests supported the Habitat Restoration project and, in 2018, South Georgia was declared rodent free. Since then, proceeds from on-board auctions have been directed to the Biosecurity Dog Programme, which is vital to the recovering of bird populations.

TRAINING THROUGH NALUNAIQSIJIT:

THE INUIT CRUISE TRAINING INITIATIVE

Through Nalunaiqsijit: The Inuit Cruise Training Initiative, Quark Expeditions hires interns to work and learn on Arctic voyages to Nunavut. Many of these participants are subsequently hired as expedition guides in the Arctic and Antarctic. The goal of this Government of Nunavut program is to equip Nunavummiut with the qualifications and certifications necessary to pursue careers in the expedition cruise industry.

BLUE MARINE FOUNDATION

Quark Expeditions, in partnership with our sister brands at Travelopia, is proud to partner with Blue Marine Foundation. This partnership focuses on preserving coastlines and marine life that restore essential ocean ecosystems critical for fighting climate change. These "blue carbon ecosystems" are vital for removing and storing carbon, protecting diverse marine life, and supporting local communities through training and employment in marine conservation.

GREEN TECHNOLOGIES FOR OUR VESSELS

BOTH SHIPS

Ultramarine and Ocean Explorer, are equipped with a Micro Auto Gasification System that thermally breaks down waste, reducing its volume by

UP TO 95%

40 DAYS
ZERO
WASTE

These advanced waste systems mean the technologically-advanced vessel can operate for 40 DAYS and discharge no solid waste.

Ultramarine has sufficient effluent storage to operate at full capacity with 340 PEOPLE (guests and crew) for 5 DAYS, eliminating the need for any discharge in particularly sensitive areas.

Ultramarine's LED lighting can potentially use 50% LESS energy than standard fluorescent lighting.

Fuel-efficient Ultramarine

Ultramarine is equipped with a state-of-the-art heat recovery wheel that reclaims between 70% and 80% of the energy contained in the exhaust air, significantly reducing energy consumption and enhancing overall efficiency.

Polar is all we do

We have a deep passion and love for these regions. And with 30 years specializing in polar-only travel, we have built the best team in the business, with the deepest knowledge and know-how.

Pioneering spirit

We were the first to do it. And, even today, our team continuously strives to push the boundaries of polar travel, with industry-first innovations, the most innovative itineraries and beyond.

More exploring, on-ship and off

Whether on one of our expedition ships, in a helicopter, on a zodiac, kayak or bike, camping, hiking or immersing in a local cuisine or culture, our guides will get you closer, get you off-ship more and make your polar adventure unforgettable.

We flex for the best experiences

We want you to leave the polar regions with stories to last a lifetime. The experience of our team and our unrivaled guide-to-guest ratio means we're able to remain agile, so each day you have more unforgettable moments.

Traveling solo on a Quark Expeditions voyage.

Our voyages are especially popular with solo travelers for a variety of reasons.

Cost-savings for solo travelers

Solo travelers can take advantage of Quark Expeditions' Request-Share program, which pairs you with a cabin mate of the same gender. Neither pays the single supplement.

Intimate atmosphere and instant camaraderie

The camaraderie on our small ships is almost immediate. Our adventure guides and expert presenters are approachable, and always eager to talk about their polar expertise.

Communal spaces throughout the ship

Our small vessels are designed with comfortable public spaces to meet and mingle. Lounges, presentation theaters (some with small tables and chairs), bars, library, and viewing spaces on the deck nurture spontaneous conversations.

Off-ship adventure options

Off-ship activities are perfectly suited for connecting and "becoming best buddies" with fellow guests.

Small group ambience

With a maximum of 199 guests, you'll be on first-name basis with fellow guests and staff in no time at all.

Meals together

There is no assigned seating. Our restaurants and dining-rooms include tables for two, four, eight and larger groups. Solo travelers are always welcomed to join other guests.

Polar passion is a great connector

It's impossible to observe majestic wildlife and not turn to the guest next to you to share your excitement. The joy of being with like-minded travelers is one of the best perks for the guests.

From time to time we feature special offers for solo travelers.

NOTES

Join us at the other end of the earth.

Once you've experienced life-changing adventures in the Antarctic, perhaps you'll want to consider equally immersive voyages in the other Polar Region, the remote Arctic. For decades, we've explored multiple Arctic destinations: Svalbard, the Wildlife Capital of the Arctic; Greenland, the domain of icebergs, polar bears, muskoxen and Viking history; and the remote, ruggedly beautiful Canadian High Arctic known for its beautiful landscapes, wildlife and Inuit culture. We recently launched voyages to Iceland and Atlantic Canada, primarily Newfoundland and Labrador.
